

January 2023 Reminder: Final Call for Papers and Information

ISASI 2023 Seminar

Nashville, Tennessee: Renaissance Nashville Hotel

August 21, 2023 – August 25, 2023

The 2023 Theme is “Accidents: The Current Which Lies Beneath”

This will be an “in-person” event with tutorials on Monday the 21st, the seminar presentations will be made from Tuesday the 22nd through Thursday the 24th. There will also be various evening get-togethers during the week.

THE THEME: “Accidents: The Current Which Lies Beneath” Addresses the component of not what caused the event but the “WHY” the error occurred. These insidious sub-surface factors, that may be multiple, go unnoticed and can be cumulative. Their influence creates an impediment to a successful outcome that even experienced crews and pilots have challenges overcoming.

Papers are therefore broad and span training, operations, human interaction, material failure, creative processes of examination, new investigative techniques, maintenance, physiological factors, and other subjects. Papers must be in English and support a presentation of 25 minutes followed by a five-minute session for questions. Finally, papers may exemplify either positive or negative outcomes, as both serve to make ISASI members better stewards of aviation investigative processes.

KEY 2023 TARGET DATES

- JANUARY 31st: Expression of Interest in Presenting: Email isasi2023@isasi.org.
- FEBRUARY 15th: A Single page abstract of your topic with single page CV is due by this date.
- MARCH 31st: The tentative selection of Technical Papers for presentation (at the Seminar) by the Technical Committee will be finished and notification to potential presenters will be accompanied with additional instructions and guidance. This includes instructions for length, format, slide requirements, and other items.
- MAY 26th: The DRAFT Papers, including a refined abstract, is due.
- JUNE 30th: FINAL PAPERS and a DRAFT PowerPoint presentation is due.
- JULY 28th: FINAL PowerPoint presentation is due.